Wonder that Accidents Are Not More Numerous in Big Field Races Such as Have Been Run at Aqueducta

The Jockey Club's rule regarding the sumber of horses that shall be permitted to start on the various race tracks ought not to apply to Aqueduct. While ought not to apply to Aqueduct. While Aqueduct conforms strictly to the rule, the track is not suited to large fields. The turns are too sharp. It is a matter of wonder that more horses do not fall at this track, considering the size of the fields.

It was almost criminal to permit fifteen Adams here to line up at the mile and seventy, yards pole yesterday and make a dash for the very sharp turn at the paddock entrance. It was perhaps fortunate that a bad start was made, for this sent the horses to the turn in straggling order. If it had been a head and head start, and the fifteen had straggling order. If it had been a head and head start, and the fifteen had gone at the turn in a bunch, there is no telling what might have happened.

Limit Fields to Ten.

The rule regulating the number of starters should be rescinded in so far as it applies to the Aqueduct track. Not more than ten horses should be permitted to line up at any distance short of a mile and a sixteenth, and not more than ten at the four and a half and five furlong poles. Not more than fifteen horses should be rescribed in the four and a half and five furlong poles. Not more than fifteen horses should be rescribed in the four and a half and five furlong poles. Not more than fifteen horses should be rescribed in the first of the season of 1903 and desires to expand the Atlas A. C. of Jersey City. Address a half and five furlong poles. Not more than fifteen horses should be rescribed.

not more than ten at the four and a half and five furlong poles. Not more than fifteen horses should be permitted to start in any race at Aqueduct.

The association announced yesterday that fifty acres of land had been purchased at the upper turn and that a five-furlong chute would be constructed. The improvement comes tardily. Land is plenty in the vicinity of the track, and even though prices were a bit stiff it should have been purchased long ago. Aqueduct has always been a money-maker. The association has made large profits, and the Jockey Club should have prodded the stockholders long age.

Cripples Should Be Barred.

The accident of yesterday could scarcely be avoided. That Mark Cheek would some day break down badly has been expected for some time. It is a question if it is wise to permit the racing of ancient cripples, especially where there are large fields. Here was a horse so badly crippled as to be of no use for racing purposes, yet he where there are large fields. Here was a horse so badly crippled as to be of no use for racing purposes, yet he was sent to the post day after day with no earthly chance of accomplishing anything except endangering the life of the boy who rode him and of the other horses in the race.

The expected came to pass yesterday when Mark Cheek's crippled legs gave way and two horses tumbled over him. Lord Turco fell on the turn. De. Souza must ride with his eyes shut, for this is the second time he has sent Lord Turco up on the heels of a field and been thrown by running onto some other horse. The competency of this boy ought to be questioned after two such exhibitions.

Whipping Horses at Sturt.

James R. Keene is a staward of the Jockey Club, and the two-year-old Wizard races in the name of his son Fox-him felder is open for engagements for Saturdays.

James R. Keene is a steward of the Jockey Club, and the two-year-old Wizard races in the name of his son Foxhall. If Mr. Keene the elder had been at the start of the fourth race yesterday and noted-one of the assistant starters cracking a long bull while at Wizard until the horse trembled in every limb and his eyes stood out in terror, perhaps he would have done one of two things. He would have done one of two things. He would have taken the law into his own hands and held a lively session with that assistant starter, or else he would have made up his mind to recommend the abolishment of the use of the whip at the start.

Is it not enough to ruin the temper of any horse to have a man cracking a few with uniformed teams averaging fources of aften years, have all detee open from Meyers.

Is it not enough to ruin the temper of any horse to have a man cracking a long whip at his heels? An older horse used to recing may not mind so much, but young, green two-year-olds, facing the barrier for the first or second time, do not understand what the pulling and hauling and cracking of whips means at the post.

The Astors A. C. would like to arrange with uniformed teams averaging fourteen to fixe year, have your all dates open from flay until September. Address F. Kelly, No. 2 Coicle A. C. would like to oook games with uniform teams averaging 14 years, and would like to hear from teams averaging 14 years, and would like to hear from the following teams: Lincoln Whip Should Be Abolished.

The whip ought to be abolished. It only terrorizes horses and is of no value. A horse that is fractious can be led to the barrier and held there. It is not necessary to snap a whip at his heels. The public has hissed assistant starters many times for too free use of the waip. These exhibitions of disapproval have been in front of the stand, but the public cannot see or hear what goes on on the backstretch.

RACING NOTES.

"Pittsburg Phil" went the limit on DO YOU HAVE his colt Grand Opera in the handicap. Though there was never better than commissioners accepted this price read-ily, and there was hardly a big book in the ring that escaped. But "Phi" went wrong when Lord Turco feil and did not quit a winner on the day.
